Saturday, an earthquake with a magnitude of around 7.3 struck Nepal. A vast number of people have been lost or injured. I was thinking, within this week, we put together some form of relief supplies, or take donations from within campus. I would like us to show our support in some way with the small window we have before finals week begins.

As the semester comes to a close, I would like to solicit feedback regarding next semester. This could include ideas, improvements, or just comments regarding the school year and SGA's achievements. Name any expectations that you may have for the next semester, what you would like to see done differently, or done at all. =
