Sat morning

Dear Christine

I thought all the week I might get a chance to go to Bruce and get you some little something for your birthday - I didn't so here it is Sat. and your birthday tomorrow - I am sending you a $100 - you can get you something you want with it and maybe suit yourself better than I could. I wish it were more but I wanted you to know I hadn't forgotten.

I got a letter from Daddy saying you were sick. I'm hoping you're ok by now. Be sure to take care of yourself.

Some how, I don't feel like you went to Greenwood as Dad didn't say a word about writing you a permit. If I'd known you weren't going I would have said for you to come home. You could have come to C. City and Chester could have met you.

I'm hurry and get this mailed. Will write you a letter tomorrow - Tell me, didn't you write his weeks ransack in the Spectator? It like you - and is good - I believe you did
Love + "Happy Birthday to you" mother
